The Eltham District Historical Society Incorporated is a small not-for-profit historical society that encourages interest in the local history of Eltham. Our Local History Centre is in the former Police residence (1859) at 728 Main Road, Eltham (corner Brougham Street). This is located between the former Eltham Courthouse (1860) and the replica Eltham Police station, which can be visited by schools and organisations by arrangement with our society. (Contact: edhsoffice@gmail.com)

Membership of our society offers:

- An invitation to six society meetings each year held at the Eltham Senior Citizens' Centre, with speakers who cover local and historical topics of interest,
- Our informative newsletter sent six times each year prior to the society meetings,
- Involvement in the conservation of local historically important photographs and documents,
- Local heritage excursions to places of historical interest.
